Nim and Fabiola Hirschhorn, Sail Luna LLC

This husband-and-wife duo were living in Florida when they decided to quit their corporate careers — 40-something Fabi was an analyst at a wealth management firm and Nim, 50, was the chief technology officer of an IT company — to launch their private sailing vacation company in 2019.

Before they met three years ago, Nim had owned other boats and lived onboard. Once they met, they sailed to Florida together and a few months later got married, living on Nim's boat.

Eugenie Alder, Deckee

Alder, 44, and her husband Paul, 51, an IT consultant, both grew up boating and sailing.

“Our careers kept us busy, but we raced in regattas and did mile building/skipper certifications. There was always the idea to go sailing someday. We’ve always traveled and relocated multiple times. We like to change scenery,” said Alder. “When we moved to Sydney, we decided that if nothing else, the boat would get plenty of use around the harbor.”
